

Suggested Reading

Montessori, Maria, translated by Claude A. Claremont; The Absorbent Mind; Dell Publishing; New York; 1989.

- Chapters:
2. Education For Life
 8. The Child's Conquest of Independence
 - 10, 11. Language
 14. Intelligence and the Hand
 19. The Child's Contribution to Society
 20. Character Building is the Child's Own Achievement
 23. Cohesion in the Social Unit
 25. Three Levels of Obedience
 28. Love and Its Source – The Child

Montessori, Maria, translated by M. Joseph Costelloe; The Discovery of the Child; Ballantine Books; New York; 1990.

- Chapters:
2. History of Methods
 11. The Technique of the Lessons
 15. The Mechanism of Writing
 16. Reading
 18. Teaching How to Count and an Introduction to Arithmetic

Montessori, Maria, translated by M. Joseph Costelloe; The Secret of Childhood; Ballantine Books; New York; 1991.

- Chapters:
7. Sensitive Periods
 8. Order
 18. The Education of the Child
 27. Two Different Kinds of Work
 30. The Rights of the Child

I would also like to suggest a cassette available in the Omni Library by Jim Fay entitled,
Four Ways to Responsibility

These books are available in the Omni Library, your local library as well as the “Omni Bookstore” in the office.